Classes and Academic Research Help Launch Companies

Over the years, MIT students have created an array of clubs, workshops and competitions to foster entrepreneurship and help those who aim to start businesses. Entrepreneurship is not just an extracurricular activity but, in many cases, an integral part of students' academic work. In other cases, student research ends up becoming the core of a spin-off company.

Supporting Optimum Wellness

"To have children in college is not an easy thing for a parent."

In this letter aimed at MIT Parents, Dr. Alan E. Siegel, chief of mental health & counseling service, at MIT Medical addresses the services offered at MIT Mental Health & Counseling, and welcomes parents to join a webinar on the health and well-being of MIT students on Wednesday, November 23, 2011 at 12:30 EDT. Pre-submit questions for Dr. Siegel or request a reminder email at mykidis@mit.edu.

MIT Parents Fund

The MIT Parents Fund campaign kicked off the year with the Parents Fund Committee’s Annual Meeting during Family Weekend. The Parents Fund Committee is made up of leadership contributors who offer advice and assistance in the solicitation of gifts from parents. Thanks to their dedication and support, the Parents Fund is off to a great start this year with $539,039 raised from 781 parents!
